

Pristine paradise

Exquisite marble tiles and frameless glass make this bathroom a piece of paradise

+ Warm, neutral tones are the focus of this renovated bathroom. With a space not overly large, Garrett Hebden from Better Bathrooms & Kitchens has used the same floor tiles as on the walls to extend the room and make it appear larger in size. A number of visual features are used to draw the attention of the visitor, such as the Egyptian bronze feature glass which stands majestically above the bath.

Dual mirrors and basins allow for the bathroom to be used by two people without encroaching on each other's space. The large vanity provides more than ample storage space with a variety of cupboards and drawers to fulfil the owner's needs. Accessories have been kept simple but stylish and matched throughout for a uniform finish. Wall-hung pans allow for easy cleaning underneath and give a smart, simple finish along the wall surface. A matching bidet gives a distinctly European flair to the room. ■
